

We are excited to announce the expansion of our Pharmacist-to-Pharmacist Advice Line, funded by the NSW Ministry of Health. The advice line will now be available for all NSW pharmacists delivering the Opioid Treatment Program (OTP).

Why this matters

With the new regulations introduced in July 2023, access and affordability of OTP have been significantly improved for people seeking treatment. As a pharmacist, you play a critical role in delivering these services and ensuring they are safe, effective, and non-stigmatising. Our expanded advice line is designed to empower you with the support and expertise needed to excel in providing OTP services, including depot buprenorphine.

Key features of the expanded advice line

- ✓ A senior pharmacist will be available to offer professional advice on all aspects of OTP services and address your specific needs and concerns.
- ✓ Our team has undergone specialised training to provide you with up-to-date, relevant information about the Opioid Treatment Program.
- ✓ Available from 8:30 am to 5:00 pm, Monday to Friday, ensuring you have access to support when you need it most.

We encourage all NSW pharmacists currently offering or interested in offering OTP services to utilise this valuable resource. Together, we can lead the way in improving opioid dependence treatment accessibility and quality across the state.
